Pink Sands Beach Tour

The Caribbean is known for its crystal clear waters, and the islands of the Bahamas not only live up to this claim, but here is where you will find one of the world's few pink sand beaches.

Jet off from Paradise Island and on to Eleuthera, making your first stop at Meeks Patch Island. If "swimming with the pigs" is on your bucket list, get ready to check it off, as you feed and swim with the curious pigs that call this island home; then cruise to a shallow cove where you can feed and touch the wild sea turtles as they swim around.

The adventure continues in Harbour Island, most well-known for the almost 3-miles long "Pink Sands Beach". Bite into a tasty island lunch at a local restaurant before you get in a golf cart and make your way to the beach for some swimming and relaxing. The experience culminates with a sandbar experience, complete with wooden swings and amazing photo opportunities. You are sure to make lifetime memories on this escape to paradise.
